Part 2

Reading

Task 1

Read the money-saving stories.

Are the statements (1-6) TRUE (T) or FALSE (F)?

1. Amy, London.

I like to keep fit but I don't want to fork out on an expensive gym. Everything's expensive in London, but there are lots of parks. So I bought some running shoes, and started to go running in the park. I also walk to school now. I save money and get fit at the same time.

2. Billy, Southampton.

I wanted to change my bedroom and get a new desk, so I was checking out prices of bedroom furniture online when I found a website called Freecycle.

Freecycling is when a person gives away things they don't need. I found a perfect small wooden desk for my bedroom, and it was free!

3. Rani, Bristol.

Every time I go to a supermarket, I get a plastic bag. Every time I do exercise I have some water. Every time I go to a restaurant I have some cola. In future I'm going to buy a "Bag for Life" and drink tap water. I'll save money, and help the environment too.

4. Martin, Cardiff.

My farther earns a lot of money, and he saves most of it, but he isn't mean. He buys my mum some flowers every Friday, and when he travels he always brings mum some perfume and some chocolates. But he has taught us to be quite frugal. His advice is, when you want to buy something, ask yourself two questions. First, do you really need it? And secondly, can you get it cheaper somewhere else?

5. Julie.

I love designer clothes and the latest fashions, and I really want a cool pair of Gucci sunglasses. I need to save money, so here's some advice for people like me – don't go shopping! Don't go to shopping centres, and don't use online shopping sites. They are dangerous!

T? F?

1. Amy goes to an expensive gym. _____
2. Billy wanted to buy a desk online. _____
3. Freecycling is an online furniture shop. _____
4. Rani is worried about the environment. _____
5. Martin's farther is mean. _____
6. Julie hates shopping. _____

Task 2

Read the text and questions below.

For each question, mark the correct letter a, b, c or d.

THE BUSINESSMAN

There is a story going round at the moment about a well-known journalist who went to interview Jack Parrish at a smart New York restaurant. The journalist was late, but fortunately, when he arrived, he found the great man was not yet there. On the way to his table, the journalist noticed a colleague from his paper and stopped to chat to her. After fifteen minutes, a waiter approached him. "There's some young man at the door who says he's supposed to be having lunch with you. I think he's trying to be funny, because he says his name is Jack Parrish!"

But of course it was. The twenty-four-year-old is becoming famous for the fact he doesn't look like the owner of one of the world's most successful computer companies. His manner is polite, his voice is quiet and his clothes are clearly not expensive. Two years ago, when he started his own company, no one had heard of him. Friends say that he hasn't changed at all. He hasn't even moved out of his parents' house. So what does he do with his money? It's all used for business. But some people in the computer world are getting nervous – and they are right. It won't be long before someone in another company picks up the phone to hear that quiet voice saying that he's the new boss.

- Someone could find out from the text
 - how Jack Parrish runs his business.
 - what Jack Parrish said in an interview.
 - how to get a job in Jack Parrish's company.
 - what the writer thinks Jack Parrish will do next.
- How did the journalist pass the time while he was waiting?
 - He phoned his office.
 - He talked to another journalist.
 - He talked to a man at the next table.
 - He interviewed a woman in the restaurant.
- The waiter thought the young man at the door of the restaurant
 - was a journalist.
 - was behaving rudely.
 - was not as old as he said he was.
 - was pretending to be someone else.
- What is the writer's attitude to Jack Parrish?
 - He is more important than he appears.
 - He is a good example for young people.
 - He should be more careful how he runs his business.
 - He would be an interesting person to work for.
- Which of these headlines does the writer expect to see soon?
 - Too much success too fast – was that the end of Parrish's luck?
 - Jack Parrish doesn't worry about money – he gives it away to old friends.
 - And the new owner of our top computer is Jack Parrish!
 - SPEND, SPEND, SPEND – how Jack furnishes his new million-dollar home.
